Dear Parent(s) / Guardian(s):

- ❖ Were the laws of Mesopotamia and Hammurabi inequitable by today's standards?
- ❖ How can you apply visualization as a strategy for reading comprehension?
- ❖ How can you tell that the fractions are equivalent?
- ❖ Can shadows be tracked and analyzed to reveal patterns about the sun's motion in the sky?

These are some of the topics being explored in sixth grade and we'd like to invite you to participate in the middle school experience. Please join us on Parent Visitation Day, Wednesday, November 4, 2009, between the hours of 7:45 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. Come and spend the day or visit for one or two periods. Whatever works best for you!

This day celebrates the outstanding work by students and staff occurring in our school daily. We are proud to give you the opportunity to join in the fun by observing your child in his or her learning environment. You may even be invited to participate in a lesson at the discretion of the teacher. Perhaps you'll learn something new!

We are expecting a large turnout and respectfully ask that you follow these guidelines:

- Please park in the front and rear lots of the Haines School.
- Refrain from bringing children as this is for adults only.
- Enter and exit classes at period changes.
- Remember this is a time for observing; not conferences.

Schedules and maps will be available at the entrance near the main office. You may want to review your child's schedule with him or her prior to the visitation day to determine the best time for your visit. Unfortunately, we are unable to accommodate visitors in the lunchroom due to space and time efficiencies. Refreshments will be available in the Media Center.

Please call the school office 609-654-4056 by November 2nd should you require any special accommodations. We look forward to seeing you on November 4th.

Sincerely,

Brooke Farrow
Principal
